

Chaplain Fellowship Ministries

New York Division
Chaplain Henry W. Curtis III

66 East Oakwood Place, Buffalo, NY 14214

September 5, 2009

Dave Umfreville
5140 Main St., Ste. 303-139
Williamsville, NY 14221-5265

Dave,

Thank you for our breakfast meeting this morning! We covered a lot of territory. I asked if you would consider joining the Chaplain Fellowship Ministries International – Western NY Division as a consultant in the area of Restorative Justice Ministry. You are already unofficially serving in this role since you have given us the liberty to call you and meet with you about a variety of challenges we have faced. You have been a real blessing with references, referrals, advice and counsel. A few of us have already taken some of your training and or have read your book: The Real World of Restorative Justice Ministry.

It isn't much but I offered to cover your initial application fees personally. You convinced me to make our ministry more professional by avoiding serious naïve errors in protocol and procedures. You agreed to draft an education program and to check into available training opportunities. We also talked about the need to develop a website linked to key contacts. I will immediately look into that.

I spoke with my pastor, Bishop Marion Richey after our meeting. Our church, Dayspring COGOP, 2628 Bailey Ave, Buffalo, NY 14215 is still available to you as a venue for classes this upcoming Fall or Winter. He is personally interested in being trained. If you come on board, I can help with the administrative details of recruiting and processing the students at this location. This would give you a city venue with administrative support and you can still use your other contacts and support for suburban training venues. I foresee you traveling to Rochester to teach our chaplains in that area. Perhaps you can consider going with us next year to help us present our Western NY program to the CFMI International Convention 2010. My cell: (716) 390-9523 or email: hcurtisiii@verizon.net

In His Service,

Henry W. Curtis III
Chaplain Fellowship Ministries
License No. CFMITX-072508